Hi Lily and Derek,
Here is the response to Devyn that Julie sent out yesterday.

Hope you have a Merry Christmas.

Hi Devyn,

Thank you for your follow-up email sent on December 20th. My staff and I have been looking into your concern that documents on EnviroStor are missing sections since they include a page that states available on "CD only". You provided a list of these documents in your November 28, 2016 and December 7, 2016 email messages. We reviewed in the electronic copies of the documents to verify that the appendix/appendices have been uploaded. All documents identified below are complete on EnviroStor. The appendix/appendices follow the "CD only" cover sheet.

I also wanted to update you that with respect to the other documents on your November 28 and December 7 email messages. EnviroStor links are provided for those documents that weren't included as having been located in the December 7, 2016 email message.

In addition, please note that there are some documents that we are working on locating (see below in purple text) and we will get back to you at a later date on these.
